The address may not be recognized by some drivers at first, but show them the below directions for an explanation.

For your reference, it's quite easy to find. Simply start by driving out of downtown Shenzhen on Luosha Gonglu (Luosha Highway) as if you're heading towards Dameisha and Yantian port to the east of Luohu. You will pass through an area called Liantang; after Liantang the road will split into two, the right side will take you up the bridge onto an elevated highway and the left will continue at ground level as Luosha Gonglu. Stay on the left side (Don't go up the ramp) and under the bridge you will see a bus station and a road leading into our area called Changling. If you reach the tunnel you have gone too far. Once you pull in, go through the guard booth and our office is about 50 meters on the right along the road running parallel to the highway. You'll see PassageMaker on the door. Better yet, just call the office # and we'll come to the guard booth to pick you up.
